About the Churches

will continue the theme I started last Sunday night: "The Devil and His Devices." I suppose some people came thro curiosity, and thought that I was going to put on a sensational discourse, but they were badly fooled. I took up a real person, according to the Word of God, and I looked at him thro the light of the Bible. In every phase of his life I quoted God's word, and that you were disappointed. I have no doubt, I believe in a real devil and I believe he is a wicked person, a deceiver, a liar, a murderer, and the enemy of God and the human race. I believe there is a conflict going on between darkness and light and it is a war to a finish. Next Sunday night I expect to discuss some of his devices. Paul told his church that it was not ignorant of them, and I am convinced that we are ignorant of them today. The Male Quartette will furnish the special music for this service. You know them and the music they render, so I do not need to tell you they are worth hearing. C. I. Hoy.

Synopsis.

The extravagant Beverley family has become deeply involved in debt and is facing ruin. At this crisis of affairs comes Polly, Mr. Beverley's ward and saves the day with her fortune and makes them conform to her ideas of simplicity. Through the play runs a charming love story and at the end the family of Beverley realizes that money is not everything and false friends do not make for happiness. And this happened "All on account of Polly."

The Radio Club has completed the installation of the sending apparatus and yesterday Supt. Boucher sent his greetings to the Superintendent of Columbia High School. Weather reports are received every day and posted on the new Bulletin board in the hall.

B. Y. P. U. Entertained.

The B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist Church was pleasantly entertained on Thursday evening, March 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Conway. The evening was spent at various games and other features. A humorous reading by Mrs. H. E. Gholson was well rendered and given hearty applause. An instrumental duet by Miss Lenora Bristow and Miss Mabel Hawkins and a vocal solo by Miss Mabel Hawkins were well appreciated. The pleasures of the evening culminated when dainty refreshments were served which made all members and invited friends appreciate the social department of the B. Y. P. U.

"Governoreess"

Last week Miss Jeanette McConachie, stenographer in the executive department preformed the duties of the governor.

Gov. Major was out of the state and Lieut. Gov. Painter was not in Jefferson City. W. E. Williams, private secretary of the governor was ill and as Miss McConachie was familiar with the routine of the office, she conducted the work.

It is the first time in the history of the state that a woman has ever carried on the work in the chief executor's office.

Miss McConachie is a resident of Troy and has been in Gov. Major's office since he took the office of attorney general in 1909. The officials have given her the title of "governoreess."

Miss McConachie was the daughter of the late A. R. McConachie and she will be remembered by many here as the family lived near this city several years ago.
